THE AMENDMENT

The amendment is as follows:
Strike all after the enacting clause and insert the following:

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE; FINDINGS; PURPOSES.

(a) SHORT TITLE.—This Act may be cited as the “Prevent All Cigarette Trafficking Act of 2009” or “PACT Act”.

(b) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

(1) the sale of illegal cigarettes and smokeless tobacco products significantly reduces Federal, State, and local government revenues, with Internet sales alone accounting for billions of dollars of lost Federal, State, and local tobacco tax revenue each year;

(2) Hezbollah, Hamas, al Qaeda, and other terrorist organizations have profited from trafficking in illegal cigarettes or counterfeit cigarette tax stamps;

(3) terrorist involvement in illicit cigarette trafficking will continue to grow because of the large profits such organizations can earn;

(4) the sale of illegal cigarettes and smokeless tobacco over the Internet, and through mail, fax, or phone orders, make it cheaper and easier for children to obtain tobacco products;

(5) the majority of Internet and other remote sales of cigarettes and smokeless tobacco are being made without adequate precautions to protect against sales to children, without the payment of applicable taxes, and without complying with the nominal registration and reporting requirements in existing Federal law;

(6) unfair competition from illegal sales of cigarettes and smokeless tobacco is taking billions of dollars of sales away from law-abiding retailers throughout the United States;

(7) with rising State and local tobacco tax rates, the incentives for the illegal sale of cigarettes and smokeless tobacco have increased;

(8) the number of active tobacco investigations being conducted by the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives rose to 452 in 2005;

(9) the number of Internet vendors in the United States and in foreign countries that sell cigarettes and smokeless tobacco to buyers in the United States increased from only about 40 in 2000 to more than 500 in 2005; and

(10) the intrastate sale of illegal cigarettes and smokeless tobacco over the Internet has a substantial effect on interstate commerce.

(c) PURPOSES.—It is the purpose of this Act to—

(1) require Internet and other remote sellers of cigarettes and smokeless tobacco to comply with the same laws that apply to law-abiding tobacco retailers;

(2) create strong disincentives to illegal smuggling of tobacco products;

(3) provide government enforcement officials with more effective enforcement tools to combat tobacco smuggling;

(4) make it more difficult for cigarette and smokeless tobacco traffickers to engage in and profit from their illegal activities;

(5) increase collections of Federal, State, and local excise taxes on cigarettes and smokeless tobacco; and

(6) prevent and reduce youth access to inexpensive cigarettes and smokeless tobacco through illegal Internet or contraband sales.

SEC. 2. COLLECTION OF STATE CIGARETTE AND SMOKELESS TOBACCO TAXES.

(a) DEFINITIONS.—The Act of October 19, 1949 (15 U.S.C. 375 et seq.; commonly referred to as the “Jenkins Act”) (referred to in this Act as the “Jenkins Act”), is amended by striking the first section and inserting the following:

“(2) FAILURE TO LABEL.—Any shipping package described in paragraph (1) that is not labeled in accordance with that paragraph shall be treated as non-deliverable matter by a common carrier or other delivery service, if the common carrier or other delivery service knows or should know the package contains cigarettes or smokeless tobacco. If a common carrier or other delivery service believes a package is being submitted for delivery in violation of paragraph (1), it may require the person submitting the package for delivery to establish that it is not being sent in violation of paragraph (1) before accepting the package for delivery. Nothing in this paragraph shall require the common carrier or other delivery service to open any package to determine its contents.

“(3) WEIGHT RESTRICTION.—A delivery seller shall not sell, offer for sale, deliver, or cause to be delivered in any single sale or single delivery any cigarettes or smokeless tobacco weighing more than 10 pounds.

“(ii) shall use a method of mailing or shipping that requires—

“(C) any required stamps or other indicia that such excise tax has been paid are properly affixed or applied to the cigarettes or smokeless tobacco.

“(2) EXCEPTION.—Paragraph (1) does not apply to a delivery sale of smokeless tobacco if the law of the State or local government of the place where the smokeless tobacco is to be delivered requires or otherwise provides that delivery sellers collect the excise tax from the consumer and remit the excise tax to the State or local government, and the delivery seller complies with the requirement.

“(e) LIST OF UNREGISTERED OR NONCOMPLIANT DELIVERY SELLERS.—

“(C) UPDATING.—The Attorney General of the United States shall update and distribute the list at least once every 4 months, and may distribute the list and any updates by regular mail, electronic mail, or any other reasonable means, or by providing recipients with access to the list through a nonpublic website that the Attorney General of the United States regularly updates.

“(D) STATE, LOCAL, OR TRIBAL ADDITIONS.—The Attorney General of the United States shall include in the list under subparagraph (A) any noncomplying delivery sellers identified by any State, local, or tribal government under paragraph (5), and shall distribute the list to the attorney general or chief law enforcement official and the tax administrator of any government submitting any such information and to any common carriers or other persons who deliver small packages to consumers identified by any government pursuant to paragraph (5).

“(iii) provide an opportunity to such delivery seller to challenge placement on such list;

“(iv) investigate each such challenge by contacting the relevant Federal, State, tribal, and local law enforcement officials, and provide the specific findings and results of such investigation to such delivery seller not later than 30 days after the challenge is made; and

“(F) CONFIDENTIALITY.—The list distributed pursuant to subparagraph (A) shall be confidential, and any person receiving the list shall maintain the confidentiality of the list but may deliver the list, for enforcement purposes, to any government official or to any common carrier or other person that delivers tobacco products or small packages to consumers. Nothing in this section shall prohibit a common carrier, the United States Postal Service, or any other person receiving the list from discussing with the listed delivery sellers the delivery sellers' inclusion on the list and the resulting effects on any services requested by such listed delivery seller.

“(2) PROHIBITION ON DELIVERY.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—Commencing on the date that is 60 days after the date of the initial distribution or availability of the list under paragraph (1)(A), no person who receives the list under paragraph (1), and no person who delivers cigarettes or smokeless tobacco to consumers, shall knowingly complete, cause to be completed, or complete its portion of a delivery of any package for any person whose name and address are on the list, unless—

“(3) SHIPMENTS FROM PERSONS ON LIST.—

“(I) the common carrier or other delivery service as if the delivery of the package had been timely completed; and

“(B) RECORDS.—A common carrier or other delivery service shall maintain, for a period of 5 years, any records kept in the ordinary course of busi-

“(C) CONFIDENTIALITY.—Any person receiving records under subparagraph (B) shall use such records solely for the purposes of the enforcement of this Act and the collection of any taxes owed on related sales of cigarettes and smokeless tobacco, and the person receiving records under subparagraph (B) shall keep confidential any personal information in such records not otherwise required for such purposes.

“(4) PREEMPTION.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—No State, local, or tribal government, nor any political authority of 2 or more State, local, or tribal governments, may enact or enforce any law or regulation relating to delivery sales that restricts deliveries of cigarettes or smokeless tobacco to consumers by common carriers or other delivery services on behalf of delivery sellers by—

“(i) requiring that the common carrier or other delivery service verify the age or identity of the consumer accepting the delivery by requiring the person who signs to accept delivery of the shipping container to provide proof, in the form of a valid, government-issued identification bearing a photograph of the individual, that such person is at least the minimum age required for the legal sale or purchase of tobacco products, as determined by either State or local law at the place of delivery;

“(ii) requiring that the common carrier or other delivery service obtain a signature from the consumer accepting the delivery;

“(iii) requiring that the common carrier or other delivery service verify that all applicable taxes have been paid;

“(iv) requiring that packages delivered by the common carrier or other delivery service contain any particular labels, notice, or markings; or

“(v) prohibiting common carriers or other delivery services from making deliveries on the basis of whether the delivery seller is or is not identified on any list of delivery sellers maintained and distributed by any entity other than the Federal Government.

“(B) RELATIONSHIP TO OTHER LAWS.—Except as provided in subparagraph (C), nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to prohibit, expand, restrict, or otherwise amend or modify—

“(i) section 14501(c)(1) or 41713(b)(4) of title 49, United States Code;

“(ii) any other restrictions in Federal law on the ability of State, local, or tribal governments to regulate common carriers; or

“(iii) any provision of State, local, or tribal law regulating common carriers that falls within the provisions of sections 14501(c)(2) or 41713(b)(4)(B) of title 49 of the United States Code.

“(C) STATE LAWS PROHIBITING DELIVERY SALES.—Nothing in the Prevent All Cigarette Trafficking Act of 2008, the amendments made by that Act, or in any other Federal statute shall be construed to preempt, supersede, or otherwise limit or restrict State laws prohibiting the delivery sale, or the shipment or delivery pursuant to a delivery sale, of cigarettes or other tobacco products to individual consumers or personal residences except that no State may enforce against a common carrier a law prohibiting the delivery of cigarettes or other tobacco products to individual consumers or personal residences without proof that the common carrier was not entitled to an exemption referred to in paragraph (2)(C) of this subsection.

“(C) REMOVAL AFTER WITHDRAWAL.—Upon receiving written notice that a government no longer desires to submit information under subparagraph (A), the Attorney General of the United States shall remove from the list under paragraph (1) any persons that are on the list solely because of such government’s prior submissions of its list of noncomplying delivery sellers of cigarettes or smokeless tobacco or its subsequent updates and corrections.

“(6) DEADLINE TO INCORPORATE ADDITIONS.—The Attorney General of the United States shall—

“(A) include any delivery seller identified and submitted by a State, local, or tribal government under paragraph (5) in any list or update that is distributed or made available under paragraph (1) on or after the date that is 30 days after the date on which the information is received by the Attorney General of the United States; and

SEC. 10. SENSE OF CONGRESS CONCERNING THE PRECEDENTIAL EFFECT OF THIS ACT.

It is the sense of Congress that unique harms are associated with online cigarette sales, including problems with verifying the ages of consumers in the digital market and the long-term health problems associated with the use of certain tobacco products. This Act was enacted recognizing the longstanding interest of Congress in urging compliance with States' laws regulating remote sales of certain tobacco products to citizens of those States, including the passage of the Jenkins Act over 50 years ago, which established reporting requirements for out-of-State companies that sell certain tobacco products to citizens of the taxing States, and which gave authority to the Department of Justice and the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives to enforce the Jenkins Act. In light of the unique harms and circumstances surrounding the online sale of certain tobacco products, this Act is intended to help collect cigarette excise taxes, to stop tobacco sales to underage youth, and to help the States enforce their laws that target the online sales of certain tobacco products only. This Act is in no way meant to create a precedent regarding the collection of State sales or use taxes by, or the validity of efforts to impose other types of taxes on, out-of-State entities that do not have a physical presence within the taxing State.

PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

H.R. 1676, the Prevent All Cigarette Trafficking Act of 2009 ("PACT Act"), will help prevent tobacco smuggling and ensure the collection of tobacco taxes. This legislation will combat unlawful cigarette trafficking by updating existing anti-trafficking laws and introducing new tools to combat illegal remote sales, such as those conducted over the Internet.

BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR THE LEGISLATION

OVERVIEW OF THE PROBLEM

Every year, tens of billions of cigarettes flow into the lucrative black market for tobacco products and are trafficked throughout the world. This smuggling seriously harms public health by making cheaper tax-free cigarettes available, including to young people, and undermining tobacco tax policies that have been an important funding source for public health programs. In addition, cigarette smuggling has played an increasing role in financing criminal and terrorist groups.¹

Organized tobacco smuggling generally involves the diversion of large consignments of cigarettes onto the black market while the product is in transit. It is estimated that the illicit worldwide trade in cigarettes accounts for approximately 11 percent of all cigarettes sold.² By diverting cigarettes while they are in the wholesale distribution chain, large-scale smugglers generally avoid all taxes.³ Estimates of worldwide tax loss to governments are between $40 billion and $50 billion per year.⁴ Within the United States, the tax losses to States from cigarette trafficking were estimated at $1 billion for 2005—New York State alone loses an estimated $500 million annually.⁵

Unfortunately, tobacco smuggling appears to be an increasing problem in the United States. The U.S. Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives (“ATF”) states that the number of ATF tobacco smuggling investigations has increased from ten in 1998 to 425 in fiscal year 2005.⁶

INADEQUACY OF CURRENT LAW FOR COMBATING UNLAWFUL CIGARETTE TRAFFICKING

Existing Federal statutes applicable to the prosecution of tobacco smugglers include the Jenkins Act⁷ and the Contraband Cigarette Trafficking Act.⁸ The Jenkins Act prohibits anyone from selling and shipping cigarettes across a State line to a buyer, other than to a licensed distributor, without reporting the sale to tax officials in the buyer’s State. The Contraband Cigarette Trafficking Act prohibits anyone from knowingly shipping, transporting, receiving, possessing, selling, distributing, or purchasing contraband cigarettes or contraband smokeless tobacco. It also prohibits any person from knowingly making any false statement with respect to information required to be kept in the records of anyone who ships, sells, or distributes in excess of 10,000 cigarettes in any single transaction.⁹

Unfortunately, these existing laws are inadequate in the Internet Age. The Internet makes it possible for today’s illegal tobacco vendors to be mobile and invisible, and to operate with near impunity. Even when they can be identified and pursued, they can often quickly shut down operations and reappear under a new name, on a new website. Consequently, Internet-based unlawful tobacco traf-

THE PACT ACT

Illegal remote sellers of cigarettes and smokeless tobacco have been very successful at eluding traditional enforcement measures, by making their cigarette and smokeless tobacco deliveries by mail. To combat this problem, the PACT Act makes cigarettes and smokeless tobacco a non-mailable matter through the U.S. Postal Service. Moreover, under the bill, Internet sellers are required to verify the purchaser's age and identity through easily accessible databases, and distributors are also required under the Act to use a method of delivery that requires the person accepting delivery to verify their age and to sign for delivery.

HEARINGS

No hearings were held on this legislation during the 111th Congress. H.R. 1676—Prevent All Cigarette Trafficking Act of 2009.

SUMMARY

H.R. 1676 would require individuals and businesses that make interstate sales of cigarettes or smokeless tobacco to comply with State tax laws and register with the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives (ATFE). The bill would authorize the appropriation of $8.5 million annually over five fiscal years for ATFE to improve the enforcement of laws governing the sale of tobacco. In addition, the bill would permit ATFE to inspect the premises of anyone who distributes or sells more than 10,000 cigarettes or 500 cans or packages of smokeless tobacco in a month via telephone, the mail, or the Internet. H.R. 1676 also would increase penalties, including criminal and civil fines, for violations of the laws relating to taxation of cigarettes and smokeless tobacco. Finally, the bill would prohibit the use of the United States Postal Service (USPS) to mail certain tobacco products.

CBO estimates that implementing H.R. 1676 would cost about $160 million over the 2010–2014 period, assuming appropriation of the necessary amounts. Enacting the bill could affect direct spending and receipts, but we estimate that any such effects would not be significant.

H.R. 1676 would impose both intergovernmental and private-sector mandates, as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (UMRA), on certain tobacco sellers, common carriers, and individuals. The bill also would preempt certain State, local, and tribal laws regulating the delivery of tobacco products. CBO expects that the direct costs to comply with those mandates would not be significant and would not exceed the annual thresholds established in UMRA for intergovernmental or private-sector mandates ($69 million and $139 million respectively, in 2009, adjusted annually for inflation).

ESTIMATED COST TO THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

The estimated budgetary impact of H.R. 1676 is shown in the following table. The costs of this legislation fall within budget function 750 (administration of justice). In addition to the costs shown below, enacting H.R. 1676 could affect direct spending and receipts. However, we estimate that any such effects would be insignificant.

BASIS OF ESTIMATE

CBO estimates that implementing H.R. 1676 would cost about $160 million over the 2010–2014 period. For this estimate, CBO assumes that the authorized and necessary amounts will be appropriated near the start of each fiscal year and that spending will follow historical patterns for similar activities. In addition, the bill would have an insignificant effect on direct spending and receipts.

Spending Subject to Appropriations

Enforcement Activities. H.R. 1676 would authorize the appropriation of $8.5 million annually over five fiscal years for ATFE to improve enforcement of the laws governing the sale of tobacco. (CBO assumes that the bill would authorize this funding over the 2010–2014 period.) The agency would be required to use those funds to form regional enforcement teams, establish a tobacco intelligence center and a covert national warehouse (for undercover operations), and create a database to track and analyze certain retail sales of tobacco products.

Inspections. H.R. 1676 would permit ATFE to inspect the premises of businesses that distribute or sell more than 10,000 cigarettes or 500 cans or packages of smokeless tobacco each month via telephone, the mail, or the Internet. Under the bill, the agency expects that it would need to conduct inspections of about 7,500 businesses each year. ATFE anticipates that it would need to hire about 130 new employees, including inspectors, agents, auditors, and support personnel, to carry out inspections and any subsequent investigations into illegal activity. Once fully phased in, CBO estimates that the costs of additional employees under the bill would reach $25 million annually, including salaries, benefits, training, equipment, upgraded computer systems, and support costs. For this estimate, we assume that the new positions would be fully staffed by fiscal year 2011, and costs would be adjusted for anticipated future inflation.

Revenues and Direct Spending

Enacting H.R. 1676 could increase collections of civil and criminal fines for violations of the bill's provisions relating to the sale of cigarettes and smokeless tobacco. CBO expects that any additional collections would not be significant because of the relatively small number of additional cases likely to be affected. Criminal and civil fines are recorded in the budget as revenues.

Under the bill's provisions, some of those fines would not be available for spending, some would be deposited in the Crime Victims Fund and later spent, and others would be deposited in new funds established by the bill and later spent. (Deposits into one of those new funds would be spent by the U.S. Postal Service and thus would be classified as off-budget.) CBO estimates that spending of fines collected under H.R. 1676 would not be significant.

H.R. 1676 would prohibit the use of the Postal Service to mail most tobacco products. This could affect revenue and spending by the USPS, depending on how the agency decides to enforce this provision and regulate the exceptions permitted by the bill. The Postal Service attempts to enforce current laws on nonmailable matter but inspects a very small fraction of the 200 billion pieces of mail it delivers each year. CBO expects that H.R. 1676 would not lead to a significant increase in those inspections and thus implementing the bill would not have a significant effect on net USPS spending.

INTERGOVERNMENTAL AND PRIVATE-SECTOR IMPACT

H.R. 1676 contains both intergovernmental and private-sector mandates, as defined in UMRA by imposing new requirements on certain sales of tobacco products by private and tribal entities and preempting certain State, local, and tribal laws. CBO estimates that the costs of complying with the requirements in the bill would not exceed the annual thresholds established in UMRA for intergovernmental or private-sector mandates ($69 million and $139 million, respectively, in 2009, adjusted annually for inflation).

Requirements on Delivery Sales of Tobacco

H.R. 1676 would require delivery sellers of tobacco products to comply with certain requirements regarding reporting, shipping, record keeping, and collecting taxes. Delivery sellers include those businesses that sell or deliver tobacco products purchased online, by catalog, or by phone. The bill also would prohibit importers and interstate sellers of tobacco from selling cigarettes produced by companies that are not in full compliance with the terms of the tobacco settlement agreement between States and tobacco manufacturers and sellers. Those requirements would be both intergovernmental and private-sector mandates because tobacco delivery sales are conducted by both private-sector and tribal entities.

H.R. 1676 also would require common carriers and delivery services to keep records for five years of any business relating to a delivery that has been interrupted because the carrier or service determines or has reason to believe that the person ordering the delivery is in violation of this act. In addition, the bill would affect individuals who currently send or receive tobacco products in the mail by prohibiting the mailing of such tobacco products in the continental United States through the U.S. Postal Service. Information from industry experts indicates that most companies that ship tobacco products, including two tribal governments, rarely use the Postal Service to distribute their products.

According to ATFE and industry sources, most of the entities affected by the requirements already perform many of the duties required by the bill, and CBO estimates that the additional requirements would impose minimal additional costs.

Preemption of State, Local, and Tribal Laws

The bill also would preempt State, local, and tribal laws that require common carriers and delivery services to verify the age and require the signature of the individual accepting a tobacco delivery or place other restrictions on those services. CBO expects that the preemption would impose minimal costs on State, local, or tribal governments.

Other Impacts on State, Local, and Tribal Governments

H.R. 1676 would benefit State, local, and tribal governments by expanding their authority to collect cigarette taxes through the Jenkins Act. This expanded authority would allow State attorneys general or the chief law enforcement official of a local or tribal government to file charges in U.S. district courts against sellers or deliverers who violate this law. The bill also would preserve existing agreements between States and tribal governments regarding cigarette taxes.

PERFORMANCE GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

The Committee states, pursuant to clause 3(c)(4) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, that H.R. 1676 strengthens and updates existing cigarette trafficking laws to ensure the collection of tobacco taxes, and introduces new law enforcement tools to combat illegal remote sales of cigarettes, such as those conducted over the Internet.

CONSTITUTIONAL AUTHORITY STATEMENT

Pursuant to clause 3(d)(1) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee finds the authority for this legislation in article I, section 8, clause 3 of the Constitution.

ADVISORY ON EARMARKS

In accordance with clause 9 of rule XXI of the Rules of the House of Representatives, H.R. 1676 does not contain any congressional earmarks, limited tax benefits, or limited tariff benefits as defined in clause 9(d), 9(e), or 9(f) of Rule XXI.

SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS

The following discussion describes the bill as reported by the Committee.

Sec. 1. Short Title; Findings; Purposes. Section 1(a) sets forth the short title of the bill as the “Prevent All Cigarette Trafficking Act of 2009” or “PACT Act.”

Section 1(b) sets forth certain findings. It notes, for example, that federal, State, and local governments are losing billions of dollars in tax revenue each year due to the illegal sale of tobacco products. It notes that Hezbollah, Hamas, al Qaeda, and other terrorist and criminal organizations have profited from trafficking in illegal cigarettes or counterfeit cigarette tax stamps. And it notes that protections against Internet sales of tobacco to minors are also needed.

Section 1(c) sets forth the purposes of this Act. These include providing the government with more tools to combat tobacco smuggling, increasing collection of tobacco product tax revenue, and preventing access by minors to tobacco products.

Sec. 2. Collection of State Cigarette and Smokeless Tobacco Taxes. Section 2(a) sets forth various definitions. Subsection (a) replaces the entire definitions section of the existing Jenkins Act. It redefines the term “cigarette” to include “roll-your-own” tobacco. It adds a definition of “delivery sale” to ensure that the Jenkins Act covers all remote sellers, whether they conduct sales by telephone, fax, Internet, or through the mail.

This subsection also adds definitions for “Attorney General,” “common carrier,” “consumer,” “delivery sale,” “delivery seller,” “Indian country,” “Indian tribe,” “interstate commerce,” and “smokeless tobacco.” It redefines the term “person” to include State, local, and Indian tribal governments, and it expands the definition of “use” to include the consumption, storage, handling, or disposal of smokeless tobacco, in addition to cigarettes. This subsection also amends the definition of “tobacco tax administrator” to include local or tribal officials duly authorized to collect and administer the tobacco tax, in addition to State officials.

Section (2)(b) enhances the existing reporting requirements under the Jenkins Act, under which interstate sellers of tobacco products must register with each State’s tobacco tax officials and report all sales into that State. Subsection (b) expands the scope of the reporting requirements to apply to smokeless tobacco products, and to shipment as well as transfer, and to require reporting to tax officials in relevant localities or Indian country, and to the U.S. Attorney General, as well as State officials. It also requires vendors to provide additional identifying information, so that law enforcement officials can locate them for inspection and enforcement purposes.

Subsection (c) adds a new section 2A to the Jenkins Act, to provide for stronger enforcement of the bill's new requirements for Internet and other remote sellers, defined as "delivery sellers" under the bill, by requiring them to comply with three basic requirements.

First, a delivery seller must comply with new shipping requirements. There must be a label on the outside of the package indicating that it contains cigarettes or smokeless tobacco, to give notice to a common carrier or other delivery service. The weight of any single sale or delivery cannot exceed 10 pounds. And the delivery seller must verify that the purchaser is of legal age to purchase tobacco products in the place of purchase.

Second, delivery sellers are required to keep records of all delivery sales, for at least 4 years. These records must be made available to State, local, tribal and Federal officials for enforcement purposes.

Third, delivery sellers must comply with all State, local, tribal and other laws applicable to the sale, distribution, or delivery of tobacco products, including payment of excise taxes, licensing and stamping requirements, and restrictions on sales to minors. The delivery seller must pay all applicable excise taxes and affix all required stamps or other indicia to the cigarettes or smokeless tobacco in advance of completing the sale or delivery.

The new section 2A would direct the Attorney General of the United States to compile, and update periodically, a list of delivery sellers who have not registered with the Attorney General as required, or are otherwise not in compliance with the Jenkins Act. The list would be compiled with the input of Federal law enforcement officials and the attorney general, tax administrator, or chief law enforcement official of each State, local, or tribal government that levies a tobacco tax. Both the initial list and any updates would be distributed to these tax and law enforcement officials, and to all common carriers and other delivery services, including the United States Postal Service. The bill would prohibit any common carrier from knowingly completing the delivery of any package for a person on the list.

The bill clarifies that a common carrier will not be penalized under section 14101(a) of Title 49, United States Code, for not completing the delivery of a package for a delivery seller on the non-compliance list or because of reasonable efforts to comply with the Jenkins Act. The bill preempts State, local, and tribal laws regulating the delivery of cigarettes or smokeless tobacco to consumers that impose obligations on common carriers or delivery services that are duplicative of, or inconsistent with, the new obligations imposed under the Jenkins Act as amended by the bill.

Subsection 2(d) of the bill replaces Section 3 of the Jenkins Act to enhance criminal and civil penalties. Criminal violations of the Jenkins Act are made a felony, punishable by up to 3 years in prison and a commensurate fine. The new section 3 clarifies that State, local, and tribal governments are not subject to criminal penalties, and that common carriers and independent delivery services are subject to criminal penalties only if the violation was committed intentionally, either for economic gain or to assist a delivery seller in a violation.

Under the civil penalties, delivery sellers who violate the Jenkins Act will be fined the greater of $5,000 for a first violation and $10,000 for any subsequent violation, or 2 percent of the gross sales of cigarettes or smokeless tobacco sold during the 1 year period ending on the date of the violation. A delivery service is not subject to civil liability if it has implemented effective policies and practices for compliance.

Section 2(e) of the bill authorizes State, local, and tribal law enforcement officials to enforce the Jenkins Act in Federal court, for injunctive or other equitable relief or money damages, to better enable them to reach out-of-State cigarette traffickers, which is difficult in State court under State law. This subsection also permits States, localities, and tribes to provide evidence of Jenkins Act violations to the Attorney General for enforcement purposes.

Subsection 2(e) also establishes a PACT Anti-Trafficking Fund in the Treasury. Fifty percent of penalties collected by the Federal Government through PACT enforcement efforts would be transferred into the fund, available to the Attorney General for use in connection with enforcement of the Jenkins Act and other tobacco product anti-contraband laws. Of that amount, fifty percent of those funds must be made available to the Department of Justice agencies and offices responsible for the investigations leading to the collection of the penalty.

Sec. 3. Treatment of Cigarettes and Smokeless Tobacco as Non-mailable Matter. Section 3 of the bill amends 18 U.S.C. 1716 to add cigarettes and smokeless tobacco to the list of materials, including alcohol, poisons, weapons, and other materials, that are non-mailable matter. This would make it illegal for delivery sellers to deposit tobacco products in the U.S. mails, and it would prohibit the U.S. Postal Service from accepting for delivery, or delivering, packages its employees know or have reason to believe contain cigarettes or smokeless tobacco. A delivery seller who violates this prohibition is subject to a fine of as much as ten times the retail value of the cigarettes or smokeless tobacco in question, in addition to any unpaid taxes, as well as imprisonment of up to 1 year. There is an exception for mailing cigarettes for purposes of consumer testing.

Sec. 4. Compliance with Model Statute or Qualifying Statute. In 1998, 46 States, Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, American Samoa, the Northern Mariana Islands, Guam, the District of Columbia, the Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corporation, Lorillard Tobacco Company, Philip Morris Incorporated, R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Commonwealth Tobacco, and Liggett & Myers entered into what is called the Master Settlement Agreement (MSA). The MSA imposed a variety of restrictions on the advertising, marketing, and promotion of cigarettes. In addition to evading taxes, an important way in which illicit cigarette traffickers are able to raise money and compete with legitimate sellers is to evade compliance with the Model Statute, which requires manufacturers who are not party to the MSA to pay money into an escrow fund. Section 4 of the bill makes it a felony for a manufacturer or importer to sell or deliver tobacco products into a State that is a party to the MSA if the cigarettes or smokeless tobacco are produced by a manufacturer that is not complying with the Model statute or Qualifying Statute enacted by a State.

Section 4(b) of the bill authorizes State, local, and tribal law enforcement officials, acting through their attorneys general, to bring suit in U.S. district court for violations of subsection (a), and to recover attorneys fees from persons found to have willfully and knowingly violated it.

Sec. 5. Inspection by Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives of Records of certain cigarette and smokeless tobacco sellers. Section 5 authorizes the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives to inspect the premises and records of delivery sellers who transfer more than ten thousand cigarettes or more than five hundred single-unit cans or packages of smokeless tobacco in a single month. The inspection authority is enforceable in Federal court, with failure to comply subject to a fine up to $10,000.

Sec. 6. Exclusions Regarding Indian Tribes and Tribal Matters. Section 6 of the bill preserves: (1) agreements, compacts, or other intergovernmental arrangements between Indian tribes and States or local governments relating to the collection of taxes on cigarettes or smokeless tobacco; (2) limitations under existing Federal law, including Federal common law and treaties, on State, local and tribal tax and regulatory authority with respect to sale, use, or distribution of cigarettes and smokeless tobacco by or to Indian tribes or tribal members in Indian country; (3) tribal sovereignty as against State and local government jurisdiction; and (4) existing authorities for coordination of law enforcement efforts.

Sec. 7. Enhanced Contraband Tobacco Enforcement. Section 7 directs the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms to create six regional contraband tobacco trafficking teams in New York City, Washington, D.C., Detroit, Los Angeles, Seattle, and Miami; a Tobacco Intelligence Center to oversee smuggling investigations; a covert national warehouse for undercover operations; and a computer database to track information regarding Internet, mail, and other tobacco sales not made in person. $8,500,000 is authorized for each of the first five fiscal years for these purposes.

Sec. 8 Effective Date. Section 8 provides that section 5 of the bill, dealing with Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives authority, takes effect on the date of enactment, and that all sections of the bill PACT Act takes effect ninety days after the date of enactment.

Sec. 9. Severability. Section 9 provides that the invalidation of any provision of the bill or its application to any person or circumstance will not affect other provisions of the bill, or the bill's application to any other person or circumstance.

Sec. 10. Sense of Congress Concerning the Precedential Effect of this Act. Section 10 expresses the sense of Congress that the bill responds to unique problems, and is not meant to create a precedent regarding the collection of State sales or use taxes by, or the validity of efforts to impose other types of taxes on, out-of-State entities that do not have a physical presence within the taxing State.
