THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

TRANSMITTING

A LEGISLATIVE PROPOSAL TO ESTABLISH THE MILLENNIUM
CHALLENGE ACCOUNT AND THE MILLENNIUM CHALLENGE CORPORATION

Relations, Ways and Means, the Judiciary, Resources, and Government
Reform and ordered to be printed

U.S. GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE

19-011

WASHINGTON : 2003

To the Congress of the United States:

I am pleased to transmit a legislative proposal to establish the Millennium Challenge Account and the Millennium Challenge Corporation. Also transmitted is a section-by-section analysis.

The Millennium Challenge Account (MCA) represents a new approach to providing and delivering development assistance. This new compact for development breaks with the past by tying increased assistance to performance and creating new accountability for all nations. This proposal implements my commitment to increase current levels of core development assistance by 50 percent over the next 3 years, thus providing an annual increase of $5 billion by fiscal year 2006. To be eligible for this new assistance, countries must demonstrate commitment to three standards—ruling justly, investing in their people, and encouraging economic freedom. Given this commitment, and the link between financial accountability and development success, special attention will be given to fighting corruption.

The goal of the Millennium Challenge Account initiative is to reduce poverty by significantly increasing economic growth in recipient countries through a variety of targeted investments. The MCA will be administered by a new, small Government corporation, called the Millennium Challenge Corporation, designed to support innovative strategies and to ensure accountability for measurable results. The Corporation will be supervised by a Board of Directors chaired by the Secretary of State and composed of other Cabinet-level officials. The Corporation will be led by a Chief Executive Officer appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. This proposal provides the Corporation with flexible authorities to optimize program implementation, contracting, and personnel selection while pursuing innovative strategies.

The Millennium Challenge Account initiative recognizes the need for country ownership, financial oversight, and accountability for results to ensure effective assistance. We cannot accept permanent poverty in a world of progress. The MCA will provide people in developing nations the tools they need to seize the opportunities of the global economy. I urge the prompt and favorable consideration of this legislation.

GEORGE W. BUSH.

THE WHITE HOUSE, February 5, 2003.

A BILL

To establish the Millennium Challenge Account and the Millennium Challenge Corporation in order to reduce global poverty through increased economic growth by supporting a new compact for global development.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

Millennium Challenge Act of 2003

Section-by-Section Analysis

Section 1. Short Title.

This Act may be cited as the “Millennium Challenge Act of 2003”.

TITLE I—THE MILLENNIUM CHALLENGE ACCOUNT

SEC. 101. Statement of Policy.

Section 101 states the objective of the Millennium Challenge Account, which is to reduce poverty through promoting sustained economic growth in developing countries committed to implementing good policies.

SEC. 102. Eligibility Criteria.

Section 102 identifies the criteria by which countries will be eligible to receive Millennium Challenge Account (MCA) assistance funds. MCA assistance will go to:

- Very poor countries. It is currently anticipated that in FY 2004, countries eligible for MCA funds will be those that are currently eligible to borrow from the International Development Association (IDA) and which have per capita incomes below $1,435 (the historical IDA “cutoff” for aid). In FY 2005, all countries with per capita incomes below $1,435 will be eligible for MCA assistance. In FY 2006, the list of eligible countries further expands to those with per capita incomes up to $2,975 (the current World Bank cutoff for lower middle income countries). The per capita income levels will be adjusted on an annual basis.
- Countries with a demonstrated commitment to ruling justly, encouraging economic freedom, and investing in their people. To assess this commitment and identify recipient countries, the MCA will use clear, concrete, and objective criteria. It is the Administration’s intent that in 2004, countries will be selected based on 16 indicators chosen because of the relative quality and objectivity of their data, country coverage, public availability, and correlation with growth and poverty reduction. The specific indicators are listed below with their source noted.

Governing Justly:

- Civil Liberties (Freedom House)
- Political Rights (Freedom House)
- Voice and Accountability (World Bank Institute)
- Government Effectiveness (World Bank Institute)
- Rule of Law (World Bank Institute)
- Control of Corruption (World Bank Institute)

Investing in People:

- o Public Primary Education Spending as Percent of Gross Domestic Product (GDP) (World Bank/national sources)
- o Primary Education Completion Rate (World Bank/national sources)
- o Public Expenditures on Health as Percent of GDP (World Bank/national sources)
- o Immunization Rates: DPT (diphtheria, pertussis, tetanus) and Measles (World Bank/UN/national sources)

Promoting Economic Freedom:

- o Country Credit Rating (Institutional Investor Magazine)
 - o Inflation (International Monetary Fund [IMF])
 - o 3-Year Budget Deficit (IMF/national sources)
 - o Trade Policy (Heritage Foundation)
 - o Regulatory Quality (World Bank Institute)
 - o Days to Start a Business (World Bank)
- Countries that have signed a Millennium Challenge Contract with the United States. The terms of this contract are defined in Section 103 below.

SEC. 103. Millennium Challenge Contract.

Section 103 specifies the contractual relationship between recipient nations and the United States. Each MCA country will negotiate and sign a Millennium Challenge Contract with the Millennium Challenge Corporation (MCC), established in Title II. To initiate the negotiation, the selected MCA countries will submit country proposals for MCA funds which integrate official interests with those of the private sector and civil society.

The negotiated Millennium Challenge Contracts will include a limited number of clear and measurable objectives, regular benchmarks to measure progress toward achieving the objectives, a plan and a timeframe describing how and when the objectives will be met. Each contract will state the responsibilities of the recipient country and the United States, and describe the role and contributions of non-governmental entities including other donors as appropriate. In addition, all contracts will provide for the financial accountability of MCA funds.

SEC. 104. Millennium Challenge Assistance.

Section 104 authorizes the President to provide assistance for activities that contribute to the achievement of the objectives specified in the contract. These activities will drive productivity and economic growth in MCA countries. Areas of focus for the MCA include agricultural development, education, enterprise and private sector promotion, good governance, health, and trade and investment capacity building.

SEC. 105. Authorization of the Millennium Challenge Account and Authorities.

Section 105 authorizes appropriations to the President of $1.3 billion in FY 2004 to carry out the MCA and such sums as may be necessary for subsequent fiscal years. It is anticipated that funding for MCA will reach $5 billion by FY 2006. MCA funds will be available until expended ("no-year funds"). This availability of funds allows the Corporation to obligate funds in the most productive manner.

Section 105 allows the provision of MCA assistance to countries notwithstanding any other provision of law with the exception of prohibiting MCA assistance to countries that are ineligible to receive assistance under part I of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961. This provision restricts or prohibits assistance to countries that engage in actions prohibited in part I, including countries that: violate human rights, support trafficking in narcotics or human beings, and contribute to terrorist financing. If the President waives any of these provisions to make a country eligible to receive assistance under part I of the Foreign Assistance Act, then that country also would be eligible to receive MCA assistance. MCA assistance would be subject to the provisions of the Anti-Deficiency Act.

In addition, section 105 makes the authorities and limitations that are applicable to MCA assistance applicable, as well, to any other funds used in conjunction with MCA funds.

SEC. 106. Evaluation and Accountability.

Section 106 requires the Millennium Challenge Corporation, established in Title II, to make all concluded Millennium Challenge Contracts and their formal performance evaluations publicly available on the Internet. The public nature of MCA performance information makes the recipient countries and implementers of MCA programs directly accountable to the citizens of MCA countries and United States taxpayers.

SEC. 107. Graduation.

Participation in the MCA will be limited according to the terms of the Millennium Challenge Contracts, which will define the purposes, activities and timeframe. MCA assistance will have a clearly defined end date. For example, at the conclusion of the contract period, MCA assistance will end unless participant countries submit a new proposal and renegotiate a new contract with the Corporation. Each contract will also specify the conditions under which the contract will be amended or terminated, including for reasons of poor performance.

TITLE II—THE MILLENNIUM CHALLENGE CORPORATION

SEC. 201. Establishment of the Millennium Challenge Corporation.

Section 201 establishes an independent U.S. Government Corporation that will implement the MCA according to provisions of Title I of this Act.

SEC. 202. Management of the Corporation.

Section 202 establishes a board of directors for the Corporation that will be chaired by the Secretary of State and include the Secretary of the Treasury, and the Director of the Office of Management and Budget. Individuals serving in these positions in an acting capacity may serve on the Board. The Board will direct the exercise of all functions and powers of the Corporation, and shall make the final decision on the eligibility and selection of MCA countries.

The position of the CEO of the Corporation will be a Senate-confirmed Presidential appointment. The CEO's compensation is fixed at the equivalent of a deputy secretary of a department or level II of the Executive Schedule.

SEC. 203. Functions of the Corporation.

Section 203 authorizes the Corporation to make grants to any private or public entity to carry out the Millennium Challenge Contracts, to provide technical assistance to develop or carry out the Contracts, and to provide for the financial management and evaluation of MCA programs.

SEC. 204. Powers of the Corporation.

Section 204 provides general powers to the MCC to enable it to conduct business operations. The principal office of the MCC is to be established in the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area. The MCC also has the authority to establish overseas offices as it sees fit. Employees of the MCC, and individuals detailed to the MCC, are provided the authority to hold offices with foreign governments, foreign government agencies, or international organizations, so long as no compensation is paid to such employees or individuals by the foreign entity or international organization. Contracts and other commitments of funds may make commitments for the expenditure of funds for such period of time as the MCC deems necessary. This section also provides discretion to the MCC with regard to the making, performance, amendment, or modification of contracts, grants, and other agreements. Finally, this section provides that the MCC and its assets and property are to be exempt from taxation by the United States or by any State or local taxing authority.

SEC. 205. Personnel and Administrative Authorities.

Section 205 authorizes the CEO of the MCC, in coordination with the Director of the Office of Personnel Management, to establish a human resources management system for the Corporation, including a retirement benefits program. However, provisions of title 5 of the United States Code related to anti-discrimination, merit systems principles, whistle blowing, and conflicts of interest, are specifically made applicable to the MCC. Employees of the MCC are considered Federal employees for purposes of leave benefits, workers compensation, unemployment benefits, life insurance, health insurance, and long-term care insurance.

Section 205 also provides the authorities for detailing U.S. government employees and private sector staff to the Corporation. Federal employees have two options for serving in the Corporation. They may be detailed on a reimbursable or nonreimbursable basis without interruption of their civil service status and privileges. Alternatively, they may resign from their home agency and retain reemployment rights. Private sector organizations may also detail staff to the MCC, while continuing to pay those employees pay and benefits.

The Corporation has the authority to allocate or transfer money to other agencies; use the services and facilities of any U.S. agency under agreed upon terms; and use any of the administrative authorities contained in the State Department Basic Authorities Act of 1956 and the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961.

Section 205 also makes the provisions of the Government Corporation Control Act applicable to the MCC.

O
