OPENING EXHIBITION

Pride of Place: Dutch Cityscapes of the Golden Age

February 1–May 3, 2009
West Building, Main Floor

In the seventeenth century, the booming economy of the Dutch Republic and its affluent urbanites fostered a new genre of painting—the cityscape—in which images of towns and cities expressed enormous civic pride. This exhibition of some forty-five paintings, as well as maps, atlases, and illustrated books, offers a comprehensive survey of the Dutch cityscape, from wide-angle panoramas depicting the urban skyline with fortifications, windmills, and church steeples, to renderings of daily life along canals, in streets, and in town squares.

Organized by the National Gallery of Art, Washington, and the Royal Picture Gallery Mauritshuis, The Hague

Made possible through the generous support of Greg and Candy Fazakerley and Eijk and Rose-Marie van Otterloo

Catalogue: hardcover, $60;
softcover, $40

OPENING EXHIBITION

Looking In: Robert Frank's The Americans

January 18–April 26, 2009
West Building, Ground Floor

This exhibition, celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of the publication of The Americans, examines both the construction of the book and the images themselves through vintage contact sheets and prints, work prints, letters Frank wrote about the book, and his earlier handmade books Peru (1949) and Black, White, and Things (1952). The Americans remains the single most important book of photographs published since World War II.

Organized by the National Gallery of Art, Washington

Access Industries is proud to be the principal sponsor of the exhibition.

Made possible by the generous support of the Trellis Fund.

Catalogue: hardcover, $75;
softcover, $45

CONTINUING EXHIBITION

Pompeii and the Roman Villa: Art and Culture around the Bay of Naples

Through March 22, 2009
East Building, Mezzanine

Some 150 luxurious works of art excavated from the opulent houses of the urban elite in Pompeii and from nearby imperial villas along the shoreline of the Bay of Naples illustrate the region's importance as an artistic center in the first exhibition devoted to ancient Roman art at the Gallery. Exquisite objects reveal the breadth of cultural and artistic life, as well as the influence of classical Greece on Roman art and culture in this region.

Organized by the National Gallery of Art, Washington, in association with the Los Angeles County Museum of Art, with the cooperation of the Direzione Regionale per i Beni Culturali e Paesaggistici della Campania and the Soprintendenza Speciale per i Beni Archeologici di Napoli e Pompei

The exhibition in Washington is made possible by The Exhibition Circle of the National Gallery of Art.

It is also made possible by Mr. and Mrs. Joe L. Allbritton.

Bank of America is proud to be the national sponsor.

The exhibition in Washington is also supported by The Charles Engelhard Foundation and by Mary and Michael Jaharis.

Additional funding in Washington is provided by Robert and Arlene Kogod, the John J. Medveckis Foundation, and the Malcolm Hewitt Wiener Foundation.

Supported by an indemnity from the Federal Council on the Arts and the Humanities

Pompeii, from the triclinium of the House of Gaius Julius Polybius, Tray-bearing kouros (youth) or Apollo, 1st century BC–1st century AD, bronze. Soprintendenza Speciale per i Beni Archeologici di Napoli e Pompei, Ufficio Scavi, Pompei. Fotografica Foglia, Alfredo and Pio Foglia Lead funding for the catalogue is provided by the Leon Levy Foundation. An additional grant toward the catalogue has been provided courtesy of Rita Venturelli, director, Italian Cultural Institute, Washington, and Francesca Valente, director, Italian Cultural Institute, Los Angeles. We are grateful to the HRH Foundation for supporting the film made on the occasion of the exhibition, and for making possible the exhibition brochure.

Audio Tour

Narrated by Gallery director Earl A. Powell III, this tour includes commentary by guest curator Carol Mattusch, George Mason University; Mary Beard, Newnham College, University of Cambridge; and Kenneth Lapatin, The J. Paul Getty Museum.

Acoustiguide: $5

Film

Narrated by Sir Derek Jacobi and produced by the Gallery, this thirty-minute film examines the explosion of artistic activity on the Bay of Naples that began in the first century BC. The film includes original footage shot in the villas and towns on the Bay of Naples, including Pompeii, where many of the objects were found preserved in the ash that covered the area after the eruption of Mount Vesuvius.

CLOSING EXHIBITION

George de Forest Brush: The Indian Paintings

*Through January 4, 2009
East Building, Ground Floor*

Combining extraordinary technical skills acquired in Paris with first-hand experience living among the Arapahoe, Shoshone, and Crow in Wyoming and Montana, Brush (1854/1855–1941) created an important series of paintings of American Indians much celebrated by his contemporaries but rarely seen since. This exhibition of twenty-one works includes life studies and studio compositions—stunningly beautiful works that are complex meditations on both the tradition of art and the advent of modernism.

Organized by the National Gallery of Art, Washington, in association with the Seattle Art Museum

Catalogue: hardcover, $60;
softcover, $40

CONTINUING EXHIBITION

Oceans, Rivers, and Skies: Ansel Adams, Robert Adams, and Alfred Stieglitz

*Through March 15, 2009
West Building, Ground Floor*

These three twentieth-century photographers each created, decades apart, their own series of photographs of places dear to them, exploring the relationship of time to photography and the ways in which sequences of images can address larger issues. These three lyrical series have never before been exhibited together—and since its 1923 exhibition, Stieglitz's series has never been shown in its entirety.

Organized by the National Gallery of Art, Washington

IN OTHER NEWS

The Gibbs-Coolidge Set of Presidential Portraits

*West Building, Main Floor
Gallery 65*

In time for the inauguration of the forty-fourth president of the United States, the Gallery has installed Gilbert Stuart's iconic paintings of the country's first five presidents. These portraits of George Washington, John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, James Madison, and James Monroe have come to define how the nation remembers and pictures these famous men. They will be on view with other fine examples of Stuart's American portraits from the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries.

CLOSING EXHIBITION

Jan Lievens: A Dutch Master Rediscovered

*Through January 11, 2009
West Building, Main Floor*

The life and career of Jan Lievens (1607–1674), one of the greatest yet most enigmatic Dutch painters of the seventeenth century, is finally brought to light in more than 130 of the artist's finest paintings, drawings, and prints. Posthumously, Lievens' works were mistakenly attributed to other masters, especially Rembrandt van Rijn (1606–1669)—partly because Lievens worked in a remarkable range of styles, reflecting multiple influences from the various cities in which he lived.

Organized by the National Gallery of Art, Washington, in association with the Milwaukee Art Museum and the Rembrandt House Museum, Amsterdam

The Lynde and Harry Bradley Foundation is the national sponsor of the exhibition.

Made possible by the generous support of Isabel and Alfred Bader and anonymous donors in honor of George M. Kaufman

Supported by an indemnity from the Federal Council on the Arts and the Humanities.

The Snow Queen
(Julian Gibbs, Canada, 2005, 56 mins.)
January 3, 10:30
January 4, 11:30
Ages 8 and up

The Snow Queen is a charming adaptation of Hans Christian Andersen's tale of best friends Kay and Gerda. When Kay is cursed and taken away by the Snow Queen to her frozen palace in the north, Gerda is determined to rescue him. Snow Cat (Sheldon Cohen, Canada, 1998, 23 mins.) is an animated story about a lonely girl and an unforgettable magical cat.

Kids' Magic-Lantern Show
February 7 and 8, 11:30
Ages 4 and up

Travel back in time with Terry Borton, lead showman of the American Magic-Lantern Theater, for an authentic 1890s big-screen extravaganza. Slides illustrate stories and songs while a live showman and musician provide the soundtrack. This show will include such Victorian-era stories as Alice in Wonderland as well as sing-alongs like "Old MacDonald."

Film Programs

The Sign of the Cross

Cecil B. DeMille's The Sign of the Cross is presented in conjunction with the exhibition Pompeii and the Roman Villa. Martin Winkler, professor of classics at George Mason University, introduces this rare 1932 print from the UCLA Film Archive. DeMille based his epic on Wilson Barrett's Victorian melodrama about early Christians in Nero's Rome.

Teuvo Tulio: Northern Tones

During the 1930s, Finnish actor and director Teuvo Tulio (1912–2000) brought his distinctively theatrical flair to the cinematic genre of melodrama. This series of films made between 1938 and 1946 is presented through the cooperation of the National Audiovisual Archive, Helsinki.

The Rebel Set: Film and the Beat Legacy

This five-part series surveys important yet seldom-seen works by many key personalities of the Beat Generation and is presented in association with the exhibition Looking In: Robert Frank's "The Americans."

An American Journey

Fifty years after The Americans, French filmmaker Philippe Séclier retraces Robert Frank's trip around the United States in 1955 and 1956. Using the same unplanned, intuitive approach that Frank pioneered, and working with only a small digital camera, Séclier explores the spirit of the Beat Generation and the impact of The Americans on photography and culture in his 15,000-mile odyssey through present-day America.

Ciné-Concert with Pianist Stephen Horne

British virtuoso pianist Stephen Horne returns to the Gallery to perform his original musical score for a rarely screened Anna May Wong feature film, Show Life (1928).

Film still from Teuvo Tulio: Northern Tones series

Barcelona Masters: Pere Portabella and José Luis Guerin

This series showcases two extraordinary Catalan filmmakers whose richly detailed and beautiful work hovers between the purely narrative and the firmly avant-garde. The films of Pere Portabella, who began his career producing fictional works critical of the Franco regime, and José Luis Guerin, a distinguished artist and professor at Barcelona's Universitat Pompeu Fabra, are introduced in an opening lecture by critic Jonathan Rosenbaum.

Émile Cohl, Animator

French critic Bernard Génin, author of Émile Cohl, the Inventor of the Animated Film (2008), introduces an afternoon of historic animation by French pioneer filmmaker Cohl (1857–1938). Cohl's short avant-garde works are believed to have influenced many other visual artists and painters of the early twentieth century, including the cubists.

New Shorts from France

Five new shorts from France beautifully illustrate the succinct, literary character of the short film.

New American Independents: The Black Maria

Since 1981 the annual Black Maria Film and Video Festival, an international juried competition, has been screening cutting-edge works—documentary, fiction, animation, and experimental—by independent film and video artists. The program is introduced by John Columbus, director of the Black Maria festival.

Admission to the Gallery, its Sculpture Garden, and its activities is free, except as noted.

Security Check

Visitors are asked to present all bags for inspection as they enter the Gallery. Backpacks and parcels must be left in the checkrooms. No parcels larger than 17 x 26 inches are accepted in the checkrooms. Suitcases are permitted but must be x-rayed at the East or West Building entrances on Fourth Street before being accepted in the checkrooms.

The Collection

Masterworks by the most renowned European and American artists, including the only painting by Leonardo da Vinci in the Western Hemisphere and the largest mobile ever created by Alexander Calder, await visitors to the National Gallery of Art, one of the world's preeminent art museums. The Gallery's collection of paintings, drawings, prints, photographs, sculpture, medals, and decorative arts traces the development of Western art from the Middle Ages to the present. Open to the public free of charge, the Gallery was created for the people of the United States of America by a joint resolution of Congress accepting the gift of Andrew W. Mellon in 1937.

The Gallery's campus includes the original neoclassical West Building designed by John Russell Pope, which is linked underground to the modern East Building designed by I. M. Pei, and the verdant 6.1-acre Sculpture Garden. Temporary special exhibitions spanning the world and the history of art are presented frequently. Specific drawings and prints not on view may be seen by appointment by calling (202) 842-6390; for photographs, call (202) 842-6144.

Library

More than 330,000 books and periodicals on the history, theory, and criticism of art and architecture emphasize Western art from the Middle Ages to the present and American art from the colonial era to the present. Adult researchers
