PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

H. Res. 522 expresses the sense of the House of Representatives that there is a critical need to increase awareness and education about heart disease and the risk factors of heart disease among women.

BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

Cardiovascular diseases are the number one killer of both men and women in America. According to the American Heart Association, every minute a female dies as a result of cardiovascular disease. Unfortunately, a survey conducted by the American Heart Association indicates that only 13 percent of women consider heart disease their greatest health threat. H. ## CONSTITUTIONAL AUTHORITY STATEMENT

Pursuant to clause 3(d)(1) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee finds that the Constitutional authority for this legislation is provided in Article I, section 8, clause 3, which grants Congress the power to regulate commerce with foreign nations, among the several States, and with the Indian tribes.

SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS OF THE LEGISLATION

H. Res. 522 expresses the sense of the House of Representatives that there is a critical need to increase awareness and education about heart disease and the risk factors of heart disease among women. The resolution commends First Lady Laura Bush and the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute for their recent public awareness campaigns to educate Americans about heart disease. The resolution states that the House of Representatives believes that heart disease will remain the number one killer of American women unless dramatic improvements are made to educate, prevent, and treat the disease. Finally, the resolution recognizes that the more women become cognizant of the scourge of heart disease and how to prevent it, the more likely they can make sound lifestyle changes to help reduce the risk of heart disease.

This legislation does not amend any existing Federal statute.
