PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

H.R. 280, the Brownfields Redevelopment Enhancement Act, increases access to brownfields redevelopment funds for America's small communities by de-linking section 108 loan guarantees from HUD's Brownfields Economic Development Initiative (BEDI) grants. The bill also authorizes HUD to establish a pilot program for a common brownfields redevelopment loan pool.

BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

There is widespread consensus over the need to cleanup an estimated 500,000 "brownfield" sites across the country. Brownfield sites are those where redevelopment is complicated by potential environmental contamination, but that are less seriously contaminated than those covered under the Superfund Act (Public Law 96–510, as amended). Many believe that by promoting the redevelopment of these sites and revitalizing the communities around them, local jurisdictions would improve the quality of life and the environment in these areas.

Both HUD and the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) currently administer brownfield programs, with EPA focusing on assessment and cleanup and HUD focusing on redevelopment. HUD administers grants through a program called the Brownfields Economic Development Initiative (BEDI) program, which has been helpful for large communities but which carries certain conditions that make smaller communities hesitant to apply for program funds.

During the 107th Congress the Committee considered H.R. 2941, the Brownfields Redevelopment Act of 2001. The bill was supported by HUD and by the Administration. Significantly, the FY 2003 HUD budget request submitted to the President proposed decoupling the brownfields program from the section 108 loan guarantee program to attract more participants. This mirrored the initiative taken in H.R. 2941.

A Subcommittee hearing was held on H.R. 2941 on March 6, 2002. Witnesses who spoke in favor of the bill included The Honorable Roy Benardi, HUD's Assistant Secretary for Community Planning and Development; The Honorable Lydia Reid, Mayor of Mansfield, Ohio; The Honorable Frederick M. Kalisz, Jr., Mayor of New Bedford, Massachusetts; and representatives of the National Association for County Community and Economic Development, National Association of Homebuilders and National Brownfields Association.

Immediately following the March 6 hearing, the Subcommittee approved H.R. 2941 for full Committee consideration, as amended; and on April 11, 2002, the Committee by voice vote ordered H.R. 2941 reported to the House with a favorable recommendation with an amendment. (H. Rept. 107–448).

On June 4, 2002, the House considered the bill under suspension of the rules and passed the bill by a voice vote, but no further action was taken on this measure in the 107th Congress.

In the 108th Congress, H.R. 239, the Brownfields Redevelopment Enhancement Act, was again introduced on January 8, 2003. H.R. 239 increased access to brownfields redevelopment funds for America's small communities by de-linking Section 108 loan guarantees from HUD's BEDI grants. The bill focused on providing access to capital for local entities that traditionally have had trouble obtaining financing for brownfields redevelopment activities. The bill also authorized HUD to establish a pilot program for a common brownfields redevelopment loan pool.

On February 13, 2003, the Committee ordered H.R. 239 to be reported to the House, by a voice vote. (H. Rept. 108–22), but no further action was taken on the bill in the 108th Congress.

In the 109th Congress, H.R. 280 was introduced on January 6, 2005. Like its predecessors, H.R. 280 focuses on providing access to capital for local entities that traditionally have had trouble obtaining financing for brownfields redevelopment activities. Most notably, H.R. 280 eliminates the requirement that local governments obtain section 108 loan guarantees as a condition to receiving BEDI grant funding. De-linking BEDI grants from section 108 loan guarantees is important because some small cities have great difficulty in securing or are unable to secure those guarantees.

H.R. 280 also establishes a "Pilot Program for National Redevelopment of Brownfields." With this authority, the HUD Secretary will be able to fund a common pool for economic development loans available to eligible local governments and distribute these loans on a competitive basis.

On March 16, 2005, the Committee ordered H.R. 280 to be reported to the House, by a voice vote.

Presumably because of budget constraints, the 2004, 2005 and 2006 HUD budgets proposed the elimination of funding for the BEDI program. The Committee believes that this funding should be restored. While the Environmental Protection Agency administers some programs to revitalize brownfields, the Committee believes that HUD should not vacate its own role in cleaning up these blighted sites. The BEDI program is a powerful tool for communities interested in brownfields redevelopment, and fostering a partnership with the EPA will be helpful for both agencies and for our nation's urban areas.

The Committee intends that HUD will continue its current practice of consulting with other federal agencies in carrying out the Department's remediation and redevelopment activities under its brownfields program.

Because of concerns over agency coordination of brownfields site cleanup, the Committee also believes that HUD should continue to defer to the federally directed and funded remedial cleanup activities of the Environmental Protection Administration, and other applicable federal agencies, which are underway or about to occur, in highly contaminated areas. This includes cleanups covered by the Comprehensive Environmental Response Compensation and Liability Act (CERCLA, or Superfund), the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, the Toxic Substances Control Act, and the Safe Drinking Water Act. Further, HUD will continue to respect orders issued by EPA, and others, pursuant to their jurisdiction over highly contaminated areas, in carrying out the Department's brownfields program.

Chairman, Committee on Financial Services,
House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has prepared the enclosed cost estimate for H.R. 280, the Brownfields Redevelopment Enhancement Act.

H.R. 280—Brownfields Redevelopment Enhancement Act

Summary: CBO estimates that implementing H.R. 280 would cost $99 million over the next five years, assuming appropriation of the necessary amounts. Of this amount, $69 million would be used by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to provide grants to local and tribal governments to support the environmental cleanup and economic development of brownfield sites. (Brownfields are properties where the presence, or potential presence, of a hazardous substance complicates the expansion or redevelopment of the property.)

The remaining $30 million of the bill's estimated cost would be used by HUD to establish a pilot program to encourage more communities to support redevelopment efforts at brownfield sites. Under such a program, communities would apply for private loans for the redevelopment of brownfields and use the grant money either as collateral for those loans or to cover the subsidy cost for HUD to guarantee the loans. For this estimate, CBO assumes communities would use the grant funds as collateral.

Enacting H.R. 280 would have no impact on direct spending or receipts.

H.R. 280 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (UMRA) and would provide benefits to local and tribal governments.

Estimated cost to the Federal Government: The estimated budgetary impact of H.R. 280 is shown in the following table. The costs of this legislation fall within budget function 450 (community and regional development).

	By fiscal year, in millions of dollars

Brownfields Redevelopment Spending Under H.R. 280:
Estimated Authorization Level [1]	25	36	37	37	28	29
Estimated Outlays	24	27	36	40	38	32

[1] The 2005 level is the amount appropriated for that year for the Brownfields Redevelopment Program.

Basis of estimate: For purposes of this estimate, CBO assumes that the bill will be enacted before the start of fiscal year 2006 and that necessary amounts will be appropriated for each fiscal year. Estimated outlays are based on historical spending patterns of the brownfields program and the disbursement rate of other loan programs.

H.R. 280 would authorize the appropriation of such sums as may be necessary for brownfield development grants for fiscal years 2006 through 2010. Assuming appropriations at the 2005 level, adjusted for inflation, CBO estimates that funding would total $137 million over the 2006–2010 period for HUD grants to public entities for assistance in the cleanup and redevelopment of brownfield sites. We estimate that outlays resulting from those appropriations would sum to $69 million over the five-year period. (Appropriations have been close to $25 million for each of the past eight years. If they were to continue at that level through 2010, resulting outlays would be about $65 million over that period.) Enacting this legislation also would remove the requirement that brownfield redevelopment grants be used in conjunction with section 108 community development loan guarantees.

According to HUD, it would take about three years to implement a pilot program aimed at encouraging additional redevelopment efforts at brownfield sites. Based on the number of communities likely to participate and on previous HUD proposals to establish such a pilot program, CBO estimates that the department would need $10 million annually over the next three years. If appropriated, we expect that such funding would be used by communities seeking to redevelop brownfield sites as collateral for private loans.

Intergovernmental and private-sector impact: H.R. 280 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in UMRA. Local and tribal governments would benefit from a national brownfield pilot program and the decoupling of brownfield grants from the section 108 loan guarantee program. Such changes would provide grantees more flexibility in using federal funds. Any costs associated with participating in the grant and pilot programs would be incurred voluntarily.

Estimate prepared by: Federal Costs: Susanne S. Mehlman. Impact on State, Local, and Tribal Governments: Gregory Waring. Impact on the Private Sector: Craig Cammarata.

Estimate approved by: Robert A. Sunshine, Assistant Director for Budget Analysis.

SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS OF THE LEGISLATION

Section 1. Short title

This section provides the short title of the bill, the "Brownfields Redevelopment Enhancement Act."

Section 2. Findings and purposes

This section sets forth certain findings regarding the benefits of brownfields redevelopment and a change to current HUD programs that would enable communities to more effectively work with HUD on brownfields redevelopment. This section also establishes the purposes of the Act.

Section 3. Brownfields development initiative

This section amends title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 (42 U.S.C. 5301 et seq.) to allow the Secretary to make grants to public entities for projects and activities to assist the environmental cleanup and economic development of brownfield sites. Grants will be made (a) based on application procedures established by the Secretary; (b) only for activities specified in section 108(a); (c) with consideration of the extent of financial leveraging involved in funded projects; and (d) without the necessity of a section 108 loan guarantee. Appropriations are authorized for grants for each of fiscal years 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007 and 2008.

Section 4. Clarification of brownfields redevelopment as eligible CDBG activity

This section makes a technical correction to title II of the Department of Veterans Affairs and Housing and Urban Development, and Independent Agencies Appropriations Act, 1997 (Public Law 104–204; 110 Stat. 2887). This section also amends section 105(a) of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 (42 U.S.C. 5305(a)) to include environmental cleanup and economic development activities related to brownfields projects in conjunction with the appropriate environmental regulatory agencies.

Section 5. Pilot program for national redevelopment of brownfields

This section amends section 108(q) of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 (42 U.S.C. 5308(q)) by providing that the Secretary may establish a pilot program to develop, maintain, and administer a common loan pool for economic development loans to eligible public entities. Entities may be selected on a competitive or noncompetitive basis under the terms and conditions established by the Secretary. Sufficient appropriations are authorized to ensure the viability of the program.

Section 6. Technical amendment to allow use of CDBG funds to administer renewal communities

This section amends section 105(a)(13) of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 (42 U.S.C. 5305(a)(13)) by inserting "and renewal communities" after "enterprise zones".

Section 7. Applicability

This section stipulates that this legislation will apply only with respect to amounts made available for fiscal year 2006 and fiscal years thereafter for use under the provisions of the law amended by this bill.
